

Six in 10 US Business and Technology Decision-Makers Find Employee Training Challenging

ARTICLE |

Alicia Phaneuf

As employees continue working remotely, executives are finding certain day-to-day work-related tasks difficult to perform. Of the US business and technology decision-makers polled, 61% cited training and development as a workforce challenge during the pandemic, according June data from TEKsystems.

---

Workforce Challenges During the Coronavirus Pandemic According to US Business and Technology
Decision-Makers, June 2020

% of respondents

---

Source: TEKsystems, "DX 2020: COVID-18 Edition State of Digital Transformation," July 22, 2020

257184

www.eMarketer.com

Maintaining company culture and onboarding new employees were also challenges, cited by 53% and 39% of respondents, respectively.

Read More:

The big tech hearing showed that Congress is divided over market dominance implications

Peacock said it signed up 10 million users, but what marketers should watch for is time spent

What Facebook, Google and Amazon's earnings mean for our 2020 ad spend outlook

eMarketer and Business Insider Intelligence have joined forces to become the leading research company focused on digital transformation. For more insights and key statistics on the biggest trends in today's most disruptive industries, subscribe to Chart of the Day.